

25 January 2010

Senator Mark Warner
United States Senate
459A Russell Senate Office Building
Washington, DC 20510

Dear Senator Warner:

I'm writing to ask you to support two issues that are incredibly important to me: making clean energy investments in America and creating job growth in Virginia.

My name is John Doe and I've been a Virginia resident for 17 years. During those 17 years, I've seen a lot of changes in our economy in Virginia, many of which have recently been for the worse. Personally, I believe that the next great job market will be in the clean technology field. We can take America in a new direction by making clean energy investments that will allow us to become the world's leading exporter of renewable energy. However, if we do not make these investments, we will find that other countries, like India and China, will outgrow us in the emerging clean energy job market, and we will find more of our jobs shifting overseas.

It is clear the majority of Americans want clean energy policies that reduce pollution, lessen our dependence on foreign oil, and create millions of new jobs. Passing strong clean energy and climate legislation this spring would provide a pathway toward meeting that goal. Therefore, I wanted to personally write to ask you to be a champion for clean energy issues and an advocate for strong investments in job creation in Virginia.

Sincerely,

John Doe

44 Charlottesville Circle
Charlottesville, VA 22903